-- As of Spring Semester 2009, the graduate law programs (LL.M. and S.J.D.) at IU Robert H. McKinney School of Law enrolled 38 students from 16 countries.

-- International recruitment for the law school occurs regularly in P.R. China, Taiwan, Japan, Pakistan, Turkey, Egypt, Germany, and Mongolia, and intermittently in other areas of Western Europe, Eastern Europe, the Middle East, South and Central America and India.

-- The law school’s Center for International and Comparative Law and Program in International Human Rights Law routinely host events at the law school featuring lawyers, academics, and other executives from countries around the globe.

- The Masters of Law Association hosted a cultural awareness and appreciation fair. Students from different countries highlighted various cuisines, attire, and other cultural items native to their home countries.

- Attended recruitment fairs in the following cities which result in a large ethnic attendance: Atlanta, Chicago, Los Angeles, Houston, El Paso, Dallas, Houston, New York, San Francisco, Miami, Washington D.C., San Antonio, and New Orleans.

- Participated in recruiting events at Historical Black Colleges and Universities in Georgia, Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee and Washington DC

- Hosted a Minority Law Day which enables students of color who are interested in law to attend and participate in a law class, interact with practicing lawyers and judges of color, and learn about how to finance a legal education.

- The law school is the host campus for the 2009 Indiana Council on Legal Education Opportunity (I-CLEO) program. The law school also supports I-CLEO by hosting and providing faculty and directors for the six week law school preparatory summer institute in 1999, 2003 & 2005. Also supported by accepting no less than half of the 30 participants of which 70% are people of color.

- The law school is partnering with Shortridge Middle School, Indianapolis Public School, for a mentoring/law pipeline program.

- Hosted a Color of Justice program during the month of February to encourage considering law as a profession to work toward by letting them participate in a law class, meet lawyers and judges. Color of Justice day is hosted to encourage students of color to view law school as a viable and realistic career choice.

- Worked with the Explorers, a division of the Boy Scouts, which is made up of high school students who are interested in the law, to visit law classes and tour the law school. In addition, other organizations visited the law school.

- Participated in the annual Indiana Black Expo, the largest ethnic cultural event of its type in the country. Students and graduates staffed a table for a total of 36 hours over a three day period and encourage interested persons to consider a career in law and to attend law day.

- Participated in Fiesta, a Hispanic extravaganza from noon until midnight, providing information and to encourage those interested in pursuing a legal education.

1.2 School/Department Goal or Implementation Strategy
Create an internationally diverse community by enrolling and graduating students from other nations, providing a variety of opportunities for IUPUI students to study abroad.

Performance Indicators for this Goal/Strategy
Tasks
1.2A - Personalized recruitment and tailored support to international students upon enrollment, specialized student services and counseling following graduation.

Persons Responsible
1.2A - Assistant Dean for Graduate Studies, Student Advisor for the LL.M. Program, Senior Advisor for the LL.M. Program, Associate Dean for Graduate Studies, Dean of Student Services, Vice Dean.

Timeline for Completion (within plan period)
1.2A - Ongoing

1.2A- Report of Accomplishments:

-The number of countries represented in entering graduate law classes has increased substantially in ratio to the number of students. The entering Fall Semester 2008 class of 22 students hailed from 13 countries.

-The LL.M. Program produced the greatest number of international graduates of the graduate schools on campus in 2007 and 2008. The law school ran a close second to the School of Engineering in 2005 and 2006.

-According to the International Strategic Plan of Indiana University, in 2007, IU Robert H. McKinney School of Law (all programs) enrolled 7.6% of all international students—undergraduate and graduate—on the IUPUI campus.

1.3 School/Department Goal or Implementation Strategy

Ensure academic achievement, persistence and graduation of diverse students, J.D.s, LL.Ms. and S.J.D.s.

Performance Indicators for this Goal/Strategy

1.3 -Report of Accomplishments

-Created a more favorable law school environment by continuing to provide academic support through the Dean’s Tutorial Society and Saturday review sessions.

-Supported student organizations such as the Black Law Student Association, the Asian and Pacific Islander Association, the Native American Law Student Association, the Women’s Caucus, the Lambda Student Chapter, the Muslim Students Association, the Jewish Law Society and the Hispanic Legal Society by promoting their programs, welcoming guest speakers, and when appropriate, by providing
- Expanded new student orientation to include a session dealing with student diversity and civility.

- Promoting Family Day for students who are married and have children. This program supports primarily nontraditional students.

- The Law School has participated in IUPUI Martin Luther King's Day of Service and Dinner on a regular basis.

- Participated in Fiesta, a Hispanic extravaganza to Fiesta, a Latino cultural all day extravaganza.

- The Diversity Committee chair along with guests participated in IUPUI’s Cesar Chavez Dinner.

- The Diversity Committee has conducted data gathering via meetings and other communications with minority and women student groups, J.D.s, LL.Ms and S.J.Ds. These have yielded rich data about the needs of our students with respect to diversity in the law school and also yielded offers of assistance in our efforts to recruit diverse students.

- Tailored orientation programs for international LL.M. students, international S.J.D. students, domestic LL.M. students and domestic S.J.D. students.

- Graduate Law Program Office staff initiated assignment of both LL.M. Ambassador and J.D. Mentor to incoming LL.M. students in 2005. Incoming students are able to communicate with their ambassadors and mentors prior to arriving in the U.S.

- Graduate Law Office staff offer specialized employment sessions for international students who intend to remain in the U.S. on Optional Practical Training to work in law-related employment.

- Since 2005, LL.M. graduates have elected an LL.M. student speaker for the law school commencement ceremony and have been invited to attend the Alumni Association Graduate Reception prior to commencement. Likewise, since 2005, LL.M. students have been able to elect a Student Bar Association Representative. In 2007, this practice was amended to incorporate the LL.M. election into the general J.D. SBA election. In addition in 2008, a second LL.M. SBA representative was permitted in the Spring Semester to reflect the constantly changing student body of the LL.M. class.

Diversity Goal 2: Recruit, retain, advance, recognize, and promote a diverse faculty, staff and administration while creating a campus-wide community that celebrates its own diversity as one of its strengths and as a means of shaping IUPUI’s identity as a university.

Report of Accomplishments
3.1B
-The library has developed strong collections in human rights, civil rights, international law, immigration law, feminist jurisprudence, human trafficking and humanitarian law.

-The library offers a wheelchair accessible computer terminal and general assistance to patrons who need help retrieving items from library shelves.
- The law school offers courses in:
  - Women and the Law;
  - Representing Women and Minority Owned Businesses
    (Recently taught by alumnus Gregory Scott, director of the state Civil Rights commission)
  - Civil Rights Movement (Taught by Prof. Florence Roisman)
  - Rights of Non-Citizens (Taught by Prof. Maria Lopez)
  - Civil Rights Law (Taught by Kenneth Falk)
  - HIV/AIDS Law and Sexual Harassment Law (Both taught by Prof. Jennifer Drobac)
  - Race & Law (Recently added)
  - “LL.M. Legal Research” for LL.M. students who have not obtained a J.D. as their first degree in law (Taught by law librarians)

- Our commitment to diversity is demonstrated in our Summer study/internship placements. The European Law, Central Eastern Europe, Latin America and Chinese Programs are the primary programs.

- The law school is one of the few schools to have forged a strong relationship with the top Chinese University of Renmin.

- The law school's Program in International Human Rights Law has facilitated, since 1997, more than 96 Indiana University law student summer internship placements at the United Nations and other human rights organizations in more than 45 countries around the world.

- We had U.S. Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg meet with law school students and address the Women and the Law course.

- Professors Maria Lopez and Karen Bravo participated in the EC Moore Symposium previously and spoke about introducing issues of race in the classroom. They both teach upper level seminars in which the topics of race and ethnicity are discussed in the context of the rights of those who are not U.S. citizens or illicit international markets.

- The law school is developing a webpage dedicated to diversity awareness information and activities from the law school students, student organizations, staff, and faculty.

- The law school established a portrait committee to come up with a list of women & minorities who merited having portraits in the law school. Since that time, we have hung portraits of the Hon. Thurgood Marshall, Judge William Henry Hastie, Virginia Dill-McCarty, and Henry Richardson.

3.1 F/G
- Assistant Dean for Graduate Studies has been included in various law school committees (Diversity, Commencement, Self-Study, and those of various international projects) to assist in integration of international and/or graduate law level students in events and projects that affect all students.

- In the last five years, the number of courses in the law school curriculum that center on international legal topics has grown tremendously.

Diversity Goal 4: Regularly assess, evaluate, improve and communicate diversity efforts of IUPUI.

Current Status: In Progress
